Your Satisfaction Guarantee

With Sweet & Maxwell’s 30-Day Satisfaction Guarantee you can be absolutely certain that the titles you request are going to meet your needs. If Bullen & Leake & Jacob fails to meet your requirements, simply return it by the date specified on the invoice in good condition and the amount in respect of the title will be cancelled and you will owe nothing for it. Please remember to enclose the invoice with the returned title. Otherwise, please pay against the invoice, which will accompany your order.

Consistent and user-friendly layout

Divided alphabetically by practice area, Bullen & Leake & Jacob aids users in finding the necessary materials according to the type of action they are managing. With a comprehensive index of all areas covered and a common template structure, Bullen & Leake & Jacob is an easily accessible, time-saving resource.

Each section follows a standard order for the presentation of materials:

- Table of precedents
- Narrative overview of the subject
- Statements of case
- Defences
- Further information
- Appellate guidance

Expert and specialist commentary

A team of over 60 eminent authorities, drawn from leading members of the Bar, offers practitioners the benefit of their expertise. Thorough attention is given to each of the 99 practice areas covered, all under the reassuring guidance of the General and Advisory Editors:

Lord Brennan Q.C., Chairman of the Bar in 1999, specialises in tort, environment and product liability

William Blair Q.C., specialises in banking and financial services

Brian Langstaff Q.C., Judge of the Employment Appeal Tribunal, Chair of PIBA, specialises in employment law, personal injury and product liability

Lord Justice Jacob, Judge of the Chancery Division of the High Court and Consulting Editor of Kerly’s Law of Trade Marks and Trade Names and Advisory Editor of The White Book.

With such a wealth of expertise contained in two substantial volumes, Bullen & Leake & Jacob represents excellent value for money.

Bullen & Leake & Jacob’s Precedents of Pleadings

General Editors: Lord Brennan Q.C. & William Blair Q.C.
Advisory Editors: Brian Langstaff Q.C. & Lord Justice Jacob

"An indispensible guide for those engaged in the art of litigation"

Lord Woolf

Whether you use Bullen & Leake & Jacob as a safeguard to check your own drafting or to give you inspiration in an unusual or difficult case, its authority is assured.

Up-to-date and contemporary guidance

The Civil Procedure Rules have been updated 34 times since they were introduced in 1998. Hundreds of new Forms have been introduced. The landscape is constantly changing.

The new 15th Edition brings the text up-to-date with the many procedural developments and the changes in substantive law since the last edition published three years ago. The number and range of precedents has also been expanded.

All 99 sections have been updated for 2003. Sections seeing significant updating include:

- Banking and Financial Services - updated as a result of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000
- Employment - updated to consider the Employment Act 2002, Part 7 of the CPR and the House of Lords decision in Johnson v Unisys
- Intellectual Property - updated to incorporate changes introduced by the Registered Design Regulations
- Judicial Review and Professional Negligence - updated to include discussion of the relevant pre-action protocols
- Computers and Information Technology - updated with a large body of important case law
- Property - re-written in light of CPR Parts 55 and 56 and their accompanying practice directions
- Business Law - thoroughly updated and significantly expanded

Contemporary statements of case, which can be modified according to individual cases, are provided for all areas.

To order, call 020 7449 1111 (UK) or +44 1264 342906 (international) or complete and return the order form overleaf, ticking the ‘Satisfaction Guarantee’ box. This Satisfaction Guarantee applies to UK and Europe orders of books only.
Coverage of both mainstream and specialist practice areas

Bullen & Leake & Jacob covers all classes of litigation, both those that frequently come before the court, and the more discreet and unusual areas where specialists require reference materials (including appellate and ECJ procedure).

Practice areas covered:
- Assault, false imprisonment and malicious prosecution
- Aviation
- Banking and financial services
- Business law
- Computers and information technology
- Defamation
- Education
- Entertainment law
- Environmental claims
- Equitable remedies
- Fraud
- Harassment
- Human rights
- Immigration
- Insurance
- Intellectual property
- Judicial review
- Personal injury
- Professional negligence
- Property
- Restitution
- Sport

Your Satisfaction Guarantee

With Sweet & Maxwell's 30 Day Satisfaction Guarantee you can be absolutely certain that the titles you request are going to meet your needs. If Bullen & Leake & Jacob fails to meet your requirements, simply return it by the date specified on the invoice in good condition and the amount in respect of the title will be cancelled and you will owe nothing for it. Please remember to enclose the invoice with the returned title. Otherwise, please pay against the invoice, which will accompany your order.

To order, call 020 7449 1111 (UK) or +44 1264 342906 (international) or complete and return the order form opposite, ticking the 'Satisfaction Guarantee' box.

The Satisfaction Guarantee applies to UK and Europe orders of books only.

To order, call

+44 1264 342906 (international) or use the order form opposite